

Year 2008 Projects

| Project Name                                       | Activity        | Project Description   | Habitat Type | Acreage | Linear Miles |
|--|-----------------|---|--------------|---------|--------------|
| Atlantic Mills Fish Passage                        | Reestablishment | Part of a Brownfields community project which removed underground storage tanks and remediated site contamination, the Atlantic Mills fish passage project is one step in the effort to provide fish passage at the first five dams on the Woonasquatucket to allow fish such as shad and herring to access riverine habitat. | In-Stream    | 3.4     | 0            |
| Fish Passage on the Three Mile River: Harodite Dam | Reestablishment | Construction of fish ladder on at the Harodite Dam on the Three Mile River in Massachusetts, part of the Taunton River watershed. Part of an effort to install fish passage at 3 dams on the Three Mile River and one of the projects funded under the 2003 Narragansett Bay Targeted Watershed grant                         | In-Stream    | 2.5     | 0            |
| Rising Sun Fish Passage                            | Reestablishment | Construction of denil fish ladder on existing mill dam to allow passage of herring and shad. Sited in highly urbanized stretch of the Woonasquatucket River.  | In-Stream    | 1.8     | 0            |
| Shad Factory Pond Fish Passage                     | Reestablishment | Construction of denil fish ladder on the Shad Factory Pond dam on the Kickemuit River to restore herring and shad runs.   | In-Stream    | 38.4    | 0            |
| Total  |                 |   |              | 46.1    | 0            |